STUDIO POLICIES

Effective October 22, 2026

These policies keep lessons consistent and fair for every student. They apply to both online and in-studio lessons.

TUITION & BILLING

- Lessons are month-to-month and billed monthly, with one lesson per week at your chosen lesson length.
- Monthly tuition covers 4 weekly lessons. Lessons continue in months with a fifth week, and the fifth lesson is billed at your regular per-lesson rate.
- Payment is due on the 1st of each month by Zelle, Venmo or PayPal. Payment details are shared when you enroll.
- Your first month is prorated from your start date. There is no registration fee or deposit.
- If payment is more than 7 days late, lessons are paused until the balance is settled, and your weekly time slot may be offered to another student.

CANCELLATIONS & MAKE-UP LESSONS

- Cancel at least 48 hours before your lesson to receive a make-up lesson.
- Cancellations with less than 48 hours' notice, and missed lessons without notice, are not made up.
- Make-up lessons must be scheduled and completed within 4 weeks of the missed lesson, and can take place online or in-studio.
- Emergencies and illness happen. Just let us know as soon as you can, and we'll work something out together, like switching that week's lesson to online or scheduling a make-up.
- If your instructor needs to cancel, the lesson will be rescheduled at a time that works for you.

SCHEDULING & HOLIDAYS

- Each student keeps a regular weekly day and time, reserved for them throughout enrollment.
- Permanent schedule changes can be requested with at least 2 weeks' notice, subject to availability.
- The studio is open year-round, including most holidays. Any time off is coordinated with you in advance, and affected lessons are rescheduled.

PUNCTUALITY

- Lessons start and end at the scheduled time. Time missed due to a late arrival can't be added to the end of the lesson.
- If your instructor is late, the missed time will be made up.
- For online lessons, if a connection problem on our end cuts a lesson short, the missed time will be made up.

WITHDRAWING FROM LESSONS

- There's no long-term commitment. To withdraw, give 30 days' notice by text or email.
- Tuition already paid isn't refundable, but any lessons remaining within your notice period can still be taken or made up.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

- An acoustic piano, or an 88-key keyboard with full-size weighted keys, kept tuned and in good working order.
- A metronome (a free app works well) and short fingernails for proper technique.
- Books and materials are purchased by the student or family. We'll recommend exactly what to get.
- Not sure which keyboard to buy? Ask before you purchase and we'll point you to a good fit for your budget.

ONLINE LESSONS

- Lessons take place on Zoom, from a laptop, tablet or phone, with a stable internet connection.
- Position your camera so your hands and the keyboard are clearly visible. A second camera angle is a bonus.
- Choose a quiet space and join a few minutes early to check your audio and video.

PARENTS & YOUNGER STUDENTS

- Parents are welcome to sit in on lessons, in-studio or online.
- Progress comes from practice between lessons. For beginners, 15–20 minutes a day with a consistent routine makes a real difference.
- Encouragement goes a long way. We'll keep you updated on assignments and progress so you can support practice at home.
